

Week in Review, by Anonymous

July 2, 2013. Hello all, my first go at one of these Slammer Tour recaps, and since I invented golf, I may stray from the old format a bit...

By The Ghost of Bobby Jones...

I see you folks like quotes. Here is one: "The secret of golf is to turn three shots into two."

Me, if I were redesigning Augusta National, I would slide #10 at Falcon Ridge into Amen Corner. I hope you all have taken note of the new rule changes: eight is eight unless it is nine. You might want to look that up...

"Put that coffee down! Coffee is for closers only." — Glengarry Glen Ross.

Okay, this update is for June 1st to June 26th (Blame Malone for pace-of-play issues).

Woodsy is #1. You would think he would be bored of winning, but he is not. Is he in Chef's kitchen? Career record of 7-7-2 (like Jack and Arnie).

568 bones for the kids this month; 34 events in this window; eQuinelle on June 14 featured the best/worst putters. The kids thank you.

On June 1st, there were three Slammer Tour events — Casselview, Champlain and Manderley. Pouf, Compressor and Dracula drew 1st bloods. Speaking of which, Woodsy is good, but Dracula is better: he had three 1st stars in the month; he is from Transylvania. Really! That's in Romania.

Now, speaking of the Count (ah, ha, ha), today's Tour is brought to you by the letter M: Slammers played at Marshes, Mountain Creek, Manderley and Metcalfe.

Casselview and eQuinelle post the lowest average field scores at 88 — more than 85% of events have a scoring average in the 90's.

On June 20th, eQuinelle had a course rating of 10. No wonder it sells out in the first minute all the time.

Keep an eye out for the best-dressed Slammer and Slammette. We have seen a lot of crappy weather, but we are Slammers so it doesn't matter.

"No putt is too short to be despised." — Me.

The 2013 Commish's Cup

July 13, Casselview

Bubble Boys*

ProZee & MommiesBoy

Pepilepu & ToothFairy

Bugsy & BearCat

DeeJay & chill

Bookie & Wally

This is the last week of qualifying, so challenge shrewdly if you want to make your Commish's Cup team!

* And girls

slammertour.com

First team match of the year saw 12 Slammers avenge last year's loss to Brockville Country Club with a strong win, wearing ungodly orange garb. Congrats to IronMaiden, Chill, Malone, Swanny, ProZee, Sunny, Lucky, Dracula, Shortstack, Gator, Papa Malone and Grumpy!

PineView had an event where IronMan and Pizza Maiden won everything. Hmm... if there was a Slammer rock band, who would be lead singer?

Cuba and Pearls, sitting in a tree... as of this writing, no Slammer has been struck by lightning. On June 26th at Metcalfe, Papa Malone was OC and Malone was first star. Some of these families are good!

The Commish's Cup is coming up (July 13th at Casselview) and Team Québec is the early favourite to win.

The Slammer named "Happy Hooker" is a man, I am told. McGee has won the most bones so far. Juice has not won the second-most so far! KaDaver has shot 28 birds, Woodsy nailed two eagles (so far), McGee has skinned 25, Stevie Ray has dogged it 12 times, Maiden has 52 wins and her IronMan has 45, Rio got a bye in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd rounds of the Open Tour Championship.

Ladies first, apparently: the TC Ladies B final is set with Chill vs. ToothFairy, and the TC Ladies C final will feature Precious vs. SunShine.

On Father's Day, Smitty was 1st star. This Ghost haunted the couch and watched the U.S. Open at Merion where they putted like Grumpy. So many good rookies this year.

Trivia question of the day: if FrenchHooligan and Ticklar were a couple, they would be "French Ticklar" (not that there is anything wrong with that), what would be the best coupling of Slammers? Fore!

#? – anonymous@slammertour.ca